1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shimomura et al. (US Patent No. 5,406,305).

As to claims 1, 42, Shimomura discloses a light emitting module (6, 7, Fig. 1) comprising means for adjusting (9-14) luminance of a light emitting element according to environmental illuminance sensed by a sensor section (8) and for keeping a ratio of luminance to the environmental illuminance at a constant value.

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 2-41, 43-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shimomura et al. (US Patent No. 5,406,305) in view of Gleason (US patent No. 6,392,617).

As to claims 2, 5, 6, 22-25, 43-46, it is noted that Shimomura does not discloses that a light emitting device comprising a pixel section and a sensor section which are formed on the same insulating body. Gleason is cited to teach a light-emitting device comprising a pixel section and a sensor section, which are formed on the same insulating body (see Figs. 3-6). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have modified Shimomura with the features of integrated sensor with pixel as taught by Gleason so that the emitting pixel can be controlled directly by the sensor.

As to clams 3-4, Gleason further discloses the sensor section includes a thin film photodiode (see Fig. 3).

As to claims 7-9, Gleason discloses an arithmetic circuit (9, Fig. 1) for calculating the luminance of the light-emitting element based on a signal transmitted from the sensor section.

As to claims 10-18, Gleason discloses the light emitting element and the thin film diode are electrically connected to a transistor (see Fig. 3).

As to claims 19-21, Gleason discloses that the light element is an EL element.

As to claims 26-29, 38-41, Gleason discloses a photo diode (418, Fig. 4), a reset TFT (406), a buffer TFT (420), and a constant current TFT (408).

As to claims 30-37, Gleason further discloses a load capacitance (410) and a load resistance (422).

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The US patents 6,243,069 and 6,424,326 are cited to teach a light-emitting device comprising a sensor.
